What is the BRIT Registry?

A patient registry is a database or collection of information about people affected by a disease, or having a specific treatment or operation. BRIT is a registry for people being treated with immunotherapy. It is held on a secure internet based database. BRIT keeps track of what treatment has been prescribed and any side effects or reactions from these medicines.

The data from the Registry will be used to help develop specialist immunotherapy around the UK and to review the safety and effectiveness of these medicines.

What will happen if I take part?

Your data will be uploaded by your team and if you have agreed to be included in emails, you will start to receive emails from the Registry. These will occur at regular intervals and ask you to complete an online questionnaire. Many immunotherapy centres use paper questionnaires to monitor treatment, the online questionnaires will be very similar. We will also send newsletters and updates about the Registry.

Many forms of immunotherapy continue to provide benefit for a period after they have been stopped. This can be months, years or even lifelong in some cases, depending upon what treatment has been given. Ask your specialist about what you might expect from your treatment. Once your treatment has finished, we will ask you if you would like to continue to receive emails. This will help is to monitor the long-term effectiveness of these treatments.

Why have an Immunotherapy Registry?

Immunotherapy for tree, grass, venom, house dust mite and animal allergy is a highly specialised treatment. The registry will record the number of people in the UK on immunotherapy and where they are being treated. It will also show how treatments are working and what side effects can be expected. It will help to provide better care for people with allergies in the future. It will also help your consultant to maintain best practice, and will show how access to these specialist treatments varies around the country.

What information is kept in the Registry?

The information kept in the Registry is like the information that is recorded during visits to Clinic.

It will include information that might identify you to others. We will ask you to complete a form with these identifiers – so that you know exactly what is being included. It also includes details about allergies, the type of treatment and if the treatment was a success, based on the online questionnaires that you complete. It also lists any side effects from the medication that you or your doctor have reported.

Do I have to take part?

It is up to you decide to take part in the Registry. You will be asked to sign a consent form and the personal information that you wish to be included in the Registry. Your care will not be affected in any way if you decide not to take part.

Can I change my mind later?

You can unsubscribe from Registry emails at any time. We will keep your Registry record entry on file in line with current UK law and then it will be deleted.

You are also able to opt out and withdraw from the Registry at any time without giving a reason. Any information held about you will be removed from the Registry. If you want to opt out, please contact your local clinician or email registry@bsaci.org. Choosing to opt out of the Registry will not affect the quality of your care in any way.

Will my information be kept confidential?

The BSACI is the professional society for Allergy specialists and Clinical Immunologists in the UK. The data on the Registry is owned by BSACI and managed by the Registry Steering Committee, which is made up of specialist doctors and nurses and patient representatives from the Anaphylaxis Campaign and Allergy UK.

BSACI control the data and most analysis will be undertaken by specialists of the Registry Steering Committee. Only anonymous data will be downloaded for analysis by the RSC.

All the information in the Registry is held on secure internet servers behind an NHS firewall. It is managed in accordance with relevant data protection laws and ethical principles. The Registry is managed by Dendrite Clinical Systems.

Only a few people will have access to the identifiable information stored about you in this Registry. Your consultant specialist and their clinical team will have access to the personal information stored about you, so that they can easily update your records and see how treatment is working.

A very small number of experienced administration staff at BSACI (these are referred to as 'trusted third parties') will also be able to see your personal information. This is to enable the information to be updated or deleted if you want to opt out, and to keep the system maintained in accordance with data protection laws.

Each Registry participant will be given a unique number which does not identify them to others. This number will be used when the Registry data is analysed by the BSACI.

The Registry has been paid for by some of the companies who provide immunotherapy treatments but they do not control or own the data.

What will happen to the data?

Other researchers in the UK and abroad may also request to use this important dataset. The RSC will review requests by the regulatory authorities, researchers and pharmaceutical companies to use the data collected by the Registry. Only anonymous data will be downloaded for these purposes.

Further information about how we handle your personal information is available in our Privacy Notice. Ask your consultant specialist for a copy or contact the Registry.

If you have any questions about the use of your data or you want your information removed or updated, please contact the registry administrator by email registry@bsaci.org or phone 0207 50 3910.
